Commn with a motor-car may be considered before going into the question of funds. Military manoeuvres take place only in a particular part of the year and do not occupy more than one or two months. The Dy Commr has a special Rs. provn for this purpose. Other Dy Commrs also might find it equally necessary to have motor-cars. I do not think that in Br India any of the Collectors are provided with motor cars. Besides the initial outlay the motor car costs something for its use every month. It will require at least a hundred rupees and even though there may be some saving in travelling allowance it will not be proportionate to the extra cost involved. The rule is that each Offr should provide himself with his own travelling conveyance for which he is allowed liberal rates of travelling allowance

Bangalore,

16th January 1908.

My Dear Sir,

I would bring to your kind notice that of late the work in the Bangalore District, such as the Military movements and manoeuvres which takes place throughout the year the anxious season prospects, the outbreak of Plague in the District and many other things do necessitate the Deputy Commissioner to be constantly moving about in the District. He will be required on one and the same day to two or more different places at great distances not possible to do even with half a dozen horses. This being the Head Quarter District, the presence of the Deputy Commissioner at Bangalore is also indispensable

Under the above circumstances I think it is absolutely necess -ary that the Deputy Commissioner should be provided with a Government Motor-Car and I request that you will kindly see your way to arrange to place at my disposal a small car say De Dion of Rs. 4000/- or so. This I propose in the interests of Government service under the present needs of executive work in the Bangalore District.

I hope you will kindly have an early consideration of the proposal.

Yours Sincerely,

The question regarding for the journeys in mo

rules to be framed for adva for purchasing motor cars it Noted that it is a pressing question for the Local Financ

Submitted.

The first point to be considered in granting an advance of the kind is, what is the security on which the advance can be given. Most of the officers of the Status to which the benefit is proposed to be given will generally be within a measurable distance of retirement. So long as the officers are under the service of Govt they can well afford to repay the advance by the Shabaswal of one-quarter of their pay; but the moment their retirement a ~~to think of the~~ duty before payment ~~Sapiens~~ the interests of Govt will be in danger at Shake unless some proper security is taken. But for the reasons to be hereafter set forth, it seems enough to hold the Status can as the property of Govt until the advance is fully repaid. An instrument which will secure this to Govt should be obtained from the officer taking the advance.

The S/s suggestion is to grant an advance of 6 months' pay to officers of and above the grade of Sub: and of corresponding Status in other departments. The concession will no doubt, subject to Heads of Depts: & Administration. If so, in each individual case, an advance of 4 to 24 thousand rupees becomes due. Unless some limit is laid on the maximum amount to be advanced to any individu or the total amount to be advanced in any year, there will be considerable (financial) difficulty to meet the dema An advance of 6 months' pay will, in the case of most officers of Govt:, be a considerably large amount and will not be necessary for the purchase of a motor ca In fact, it is not possible to grant, in every case, an advance of 6 months' pay. A maximum amount of 6 or 8 thousand rupees will be sufficient A similar limit, say 30,000 or 40,000 Rs: may be prescribed for the annual provisi in the budget estimates of Ways & Mea

Again, it is neither possible nor necess say that the advance should be given to ~~all~~ every officer of the prescribed Cadre The absence of some proper restriction is sure to bring applications from every quarter. Advances should be given to make in the discharge of their official duties, provided they can not afford to purchase one without the aid of Govt. It is very necessary that Govt. should guard itself against creating in certain of the officers an incentive to go in for the luxury of a motor car. A motor car is not an indispensible necessity to the Govt. Bombay or the Secretariat, Chief Rev. Deptt, or the judicial officers of the State or the Executive Officers of Divisions, Registration & Education.

Further, it is to be laid down whether more than one advance can be given to any individual and if so, Subject to what limit.

If the orders are passed on the view taken above, a set of rules may be framed in accordance with the rules prescribed by the Govt. of India in the Fin: Deptt: for the grant of House-Building advances.
